

Standing for the rights of small scale farm producers

Most of the small farmers in central Visayas and southern parts of the Philippines are landless, they are given permission to farm a small plot of land on the large landowners farms in return they have to give a third of their produce to the landowners. PWRDF partner, Southern Partners and Fair Trade Corporation (SPFTC) serves as the direct link between the small farm producers and the consumers by giving due and just value to the producers' products and opening up alternative venues for marketing their products at a just and fair price.
